

(503) ZINE

Cover photo by Julie Scherr

Edited by Elliot Frantz

5:03AM

(503) is slowly awakening, before the sun has even risen.

Bradon Davis
"Illuminated Amenity"

Nikki Frantz

Angel
“Don’t judge the pace 😊”

UNSEEN COMPANIONS

Unbeknownst to each other, two lenses converge on Providence Park—their shutters echoing in unison.

Above: John N Dussel, Providence Park
"Go Timbers, Beat Vancouver!"

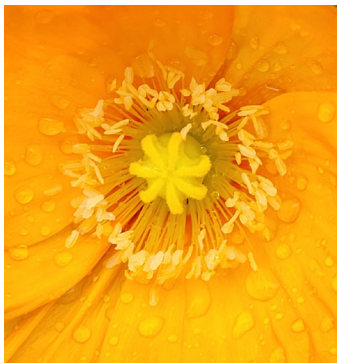

Left: Emily Stratman, Providence Park

John Romkey
Arbor Lodge

SPRINGTIME IN (503)

A symphony of color against grey skies.
Spring here is better than anywhere else.

Chris Bloom,
McMenamins Edgefield Garden,
Troutdale
“Poppin’ Poppy!”

Kelsey Wallace

Below: John Romkey
"Still Life with Japanese Maple"

POSING FACES

Looking picture-perfect, mugging for the camera!

Tim Fraser
“Heading to Chart House on Terwilliger for my wife’s birthday dinner on 503 Day.”

Hazel and Joshua, Irvington

“...we were getting ready to head to a family dinner inspired by the 503 holiday, with vegan cheese (even though none of us are vegan), stuffed peppers, lemony potatoes, and artisanal ice cream sandwiches (a homemade imitation of my favorite pdx brand, ruby jewel)”

Mel Ortiz, at home
“503 PDX Love”

John Romkey

“What was I doing at 5:03PM?”

Shared experiences and new memories with loved ones.

COMING TOGETHER

Above: The Portland City Cast team

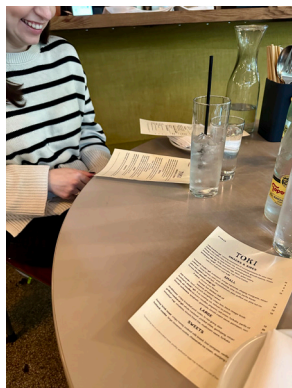

Kristin Lieber, Troutdale

“We were finishing up a late lunch at Sugarpine Drive-In in Troutdale, celebrating my boyfriend’s 503 birthday after a hike in the Gorge and a free soak at Everett House.”

Left: Vivian Vaughn, Laurelhurst
 “My cousin and aunt walked thru the door at 5:03, drove down from Seattle on this 5-03.”

Brandon Davis
 “Toe to toe, heart to heart”

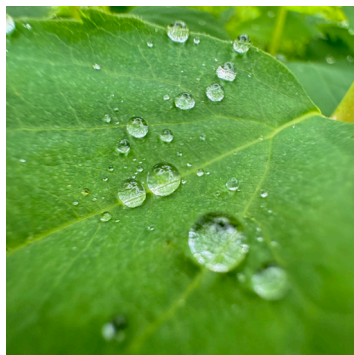

Above: Tim M., Toki
 “A sister’s visit”

One of the reasons for the beauty here comes from frequent rains. For some that means going out, for others it means bundling up.

RAIN

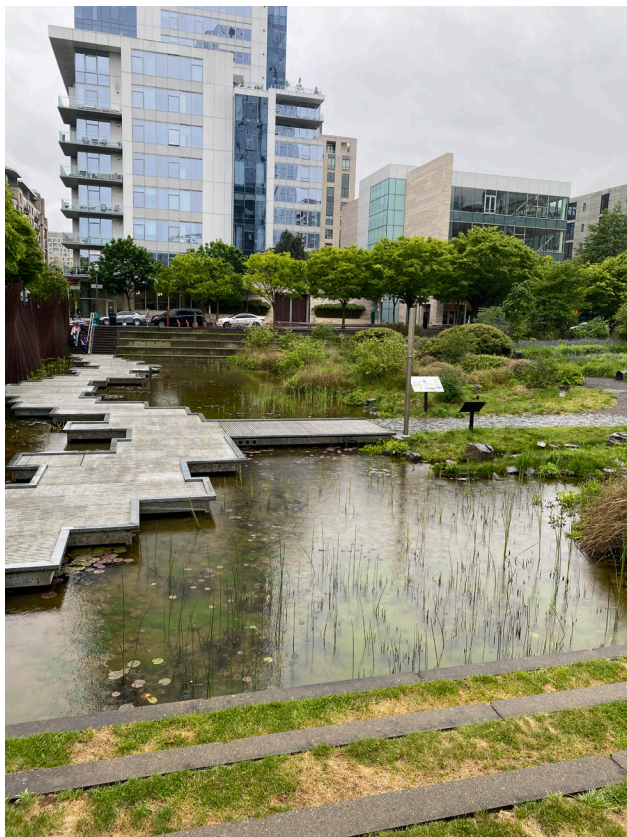

Tessa Komine

Seth, North of Wilshire Park
“in Portland fashion, the rain started just as I stepped out the door to capture some neighborhood beauty. instead I found in my front yard the first few drops balanced on a new leaf, fresh and vibrant and promising of things to come”

Anjelica Padilla
“Looking at my back patio. Looking forward to cleaning it up and getting it ready for a sunnier day.”

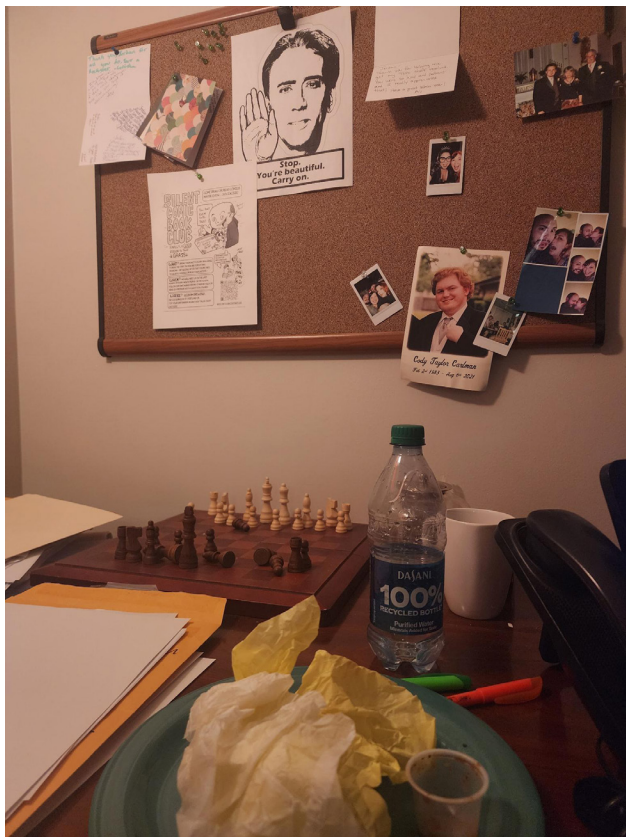

Kushal, Tanner Springs Park

Regan Hutson, Sellwood Bridge
"Sitting in traffic and rain."

Elliot Frantz, Forest Park
"The Witch's House"

Jojo Carlman

Andy, Roseland Theater in Portland
“Photos taken at 10:03 PM PDT on May 2nd, aka 5:03AM UTC on 5/3”

503...?

Photos taken beyond the initial guidelines that are either too sweet or too pedantic not to be included.

Rebecca Lemmo, Aveda Institute, Portland

"I'm a hair design instructor at Aveda Institute Portland. I'm submitting a photo from 5:03 PM on May 1, of the students working on clients."

Brenda Fling, Portland
"503 Raindrops"

This community-driven photography zine was made possible by the enthusiasm and creativity of residents across the 503 area code. Thank you to everyone who picked up their camera on May 3rd and captured a slice of life at 5:03 AM or PM.

Your candid shots, artistic eyes, and willingness to freeze these fleeting moments have resulted in a vibrant, diverse collection.